Emerging Leaders Program

A Partnership Between:
The Institute of Leadership and Service,
Student Affairs, Student Life,
Center for Career & Professional Dvlp.
University Ministry, Honors Program,
PRIME Center &
Athletics

You're Already in it!

All Detroit Mercy students are automatically enrolled in the Emerging Leaders Program.

Now Get the Recognition!

Those that choose to document and reflect on their University engagement will be recognized with a Leadership Pin or Medallion Honors Convocation.

Our Mission:

Educate, Engage, & Empower ALL Detroit Mercy students

Provide opportunities for all members of the Detroit Mercy community to engage in social change for the common good. The Institute for Leadership and Service upholds the ideals of our founders who believe in the promotion of justice and compassionate service to those in need as we are transforming lives to lead and serve.

You're already in it!

Yep. That's right. Already this year you have donated your time to lead and serve in the Detroit Mercy community. Besides feeling good, get recognition for it. That's what the ELP Team is here for! Visit our office or email elp@udmercy.edu

Busy? Yeah, me too.

We so totally get it! Guess what? You probably just did some service hours or participated in campus events last week. With so many opportunities and all four/five years of college to do it, you have the time.

Don't worry. You can count things you did in past years and you can count the amount of hours from your previous service learning courses. Contact Fr. Tim Hipskind at theinstitute@udmercy.edu and he can let you know how many verified hours you have earned from each of your service learning courses.

We get it.

You're a college student, looking for new horizons. We are providing you an opportunity to network, meet new friends, and engage and reflect on events that will give you that extra something on your resume and things to say at your interview. -- Oh, and maybe even an addition to your degree.

Leadership Minor:

Goes great with any major! This is the next step up. This is what employers are looking for: People who exhibit Leadership and who have done service!
If you are taking the two leadership courses for the Minor, you already have many of the ELP requirements already completed. Contact Don DiPaolo, PhD, Professor, Leadership Minor Coordinator at don.dipaolo@udmercy.edu

National Society for Leadership and Success:

AKA Alpha Sigma Pi. NSLS is the largest leadership honor society in the US. Gain national recognition of your leadership. Participation in events and broadcasts can "count" towards your Emerging Leaders Program requirements! Contact Monica Williams, Dean of Students at leonarmj@udmercy.edu

Leadership at Detroit Mercy

There are four possible Leadership recognitions you can earn at Detroit Mercy:

Emerging Leaders Program Pin

Involvement in student organizations, spirituality events, attendance at leadership slams, and 100 hours of community service.

Emerging Leaders Program Medallion

Additional involvement in student organizations, a spirituality retreat, leadership coursework, and 200 hours of community service.

National Society of Leadership and Success (NSLS)

Involvement in NSLS Orientation, Leadership Training Day, three Leadership Broadcasts, and three Success Networking Team Meetings.

Leadership Minor

Possess a passion for leadership by enrolling in leadership courses that compliment your major.

What's in it for me?

Leadership Pin/Leadership Medallion

We want you to experience and reflect on the University Mission and Vision!

For the extra help that you give and for all the leadership experiences you have been involved with, the Emerging Leaders Program offers you the chance to earn a Pin or Medallion.

Oh, it is also a good resume builder as you will gain experience in Leadership. If you would like to earn national recognition, accept the invitation to join our sister program, The National Society for Leadership and Success

Campus events are posted on Detroit Mercy Live.

But, other events on and off campus may count, too!

Convinced?

Let's get started then:

1. Fill out this checklist with what you already know counts.
2. Email elp@udmercy.edu stating your interest.
3. We'll email you back asking you for info about your major, minor, and expected graduation, etc.
4. Go to <https://udmercy.campuslabs.com/engage/> and sign into your Titan Pass account. To access the paths that have been created, look in the top right corner click on the circle for your account, then click on paths. You can see both the Pin and Medallion path.
5. Stay up-to-date on all events and requirements – See Detroit Mercy Live.
6. Come see us and "Log Your Leadership" in our offices or during our "Pop Up" events in the library, student center, and in various meetings and courses.

Confused?

That's okay. Just ask! The ELP team is here to help!
